DiKoS – Analysis and Development of Digital Competencies of Students

Dear first-semester student, in the course of a project by the Styrian University Conference (CAMPUS 02 University of Applied Sciences, Graz University of Technology, JOANNEUM University of Applied Sciences, Medical University of Graz, Montanuniversitaet Leoben, Private University College of Teacher Education Diocese Graz-Seckau, University College of Teacher Education Styria, University of Graz, and University of Music and Performing Arts Graz) the University of Graz is conducting a study regarding the self-assessment of digital competencies among students.

We would like to invite you to take part in this survey. It will take you about 15 minutes to complete.

Your data will be stored without your name or other direct identifiers and will be processed exclusively for scientific research purposes.

Thank you very much for your support!

The project team

Data protection information on the research project "DiKoS – Analysis and Development of the Acquisition of Digital Competencies by Students" pursuant to Art 12, 13 GDPR

First-semester students of all Styrian universities are asked about their digital skills and some personal information by means of a paper-pencil survey without having to state names or other direct identifiers or sensitive data. The aim is to identify existing prior knowledge in the field of digital competencies, depending on the field of study. This makes it possible, for example, to adapt the range of courses offered by the universities to the level of competencies in the best way possible. Because of the degree of detail given in the section on personal non-sensitive data of the survey and the possibility of small group sizes among participants, it cannot be completely ruled out that some conclusions can be drawn about individual persons. The data is processed in compliance with the requirements of the GDPR and the Data Protection Act. Participation in the research project is voluntary. The survey can be terminated at any time without giving reasons and without any consequences.

What personal data is collected and processed?

Only non-sensitive data of the following categories will be processed:

- Information on digital competencies
- Gender
- Age group
- University
- First-time enrolment (yes/no)
- Study program/Course of studies
- Origin (urban or suburban/rural environment)
- Type of university entrance qualification (type of school completed, university entrance examination, non-Austrian education, other)
- Attendance of a laptop and/or tablet class (yes/no)
- Employment prior to studies with additional information

What happens to the collected data?

The data will be processed exclusively for the purposes of the research project described above and for any thematically relevant joint follow-up projects (see below) and will be treated strictly confidentially, i.e. only made available to the project staff of the participating universities. An agreement on joint responsibility pursuant to Art 26 GDPR exists between the participating universities.

The data is collected at the respective locations by the Department of Business Education and Development at the University of Graz. The completed questionnaires will be digitized by the project staff with special scanners at the Graz University of Technology and the University of Graz. Data analysis will subsequently take place at the Department of Business Education and Development of the University of Graz.

Further use of the data in any thematically relevant joint follow-up projects (within the 7-year retention period) is not excluded (and is based on the consent given; broad consent as defined in Recital 33 GDPR). In the case of a follow-up project, additional information will be provided via the Department's homepage <https://wirtschaftspaedagogik.uni-graz.at/en/researching/>.

In project reports and scientific publications, the data is presented in a completely anonymous and aggregated form – on this basis it is not possible to draw conclusions about specific persons. Open access publication of data or any other further processing will only take place after the data has been completely anonymized.

Legal basis for data processing

The processing of the data takes place on the basis of your consent (Art 6 para 1 lit a GDPR in conjunction with Recital 33). You consent to the processing of your personal data for the purpose of the research project described above (including thematically related follow-up projects) by completing and submitting the questionnaire.

Where and for how long is the data stored?

The data will be kept for the duration of the project and beyond – as far as it forms the basis of a publication – to prove good scientific practice (justified interest/legal obligation from the statutes of the university) for 7 years after publication of the research results in encrypted form on secured data storage devices of the University of Graz. In the case of permissible processing for a relevant follow-up project, the storage period shall be extended accordingly.

Information about your rights

Your consent for the processing of your data can be revoked freely and at any time by contacting the Department under indication of the identifier assigned to you (code on the information letter and the questionnaire).

With regard to your rights of access (Art 15 GDPR), rectification (Art 16 GDPR), deletion (Art 17 GDPR) and limitation of processing (Art 18 GDPR), please contact the organizational unit carrying out the data processing or the data protection officer of the University of Graz as listed below. If you are of the opinion that our processing violates the GDPR, you have the right to complain (Art 77 GDPR) to the Austrian Data Protection Authority, Barichgasse 40–42, 1030 Vienna, telephone: +43 1 52 1520, e-mail: dsb@dsb.gv.at.
